

Anne Devine:

San Francisco-based artist ANNE DEVINE originates site-specific distance walking performances and public walks. She holds a BFA in Visual Art (Photography, Film & Video) from Mason Gross School of the Arts, Rutgers University and an MFA in Fine Arts (Social Practice) from California College of the Arts. Part social activist, part expeditionary, in this interview recorded in June 2008 using Internet telephony, Anne talks about how she incorporates walking in her art practice.
