

Hana Sutch

Five years ago, looking for places to get close to nature with her then toddler, Hana Sutch found it proved to be absurdly difficult. Although through recommendations, she found One Tree Hill and Sydenham Hill Woods, Hana became convinced that what was needed was a simple app to help solve this problem facing many parents. She applied her digital design skills and came up with Go Jauntly. With an infectious laugh and an intriguing story to tell, they quickly fell into a candid conversation, about how Go Jauntly came into being. This is a must listen for anyone, who like Andrew, has thought of creating an app, as Hana reveals just how tough it can be. 26'20" 12.3MB
