

Charlie Lee Potter

Charlie Lee Potter has had a lifelong passion for working with sound especially in creatively weaving soundscapes to evoke places. As a former BBC radio journalist and foreign correspondent, she knows how the sound of a place helps to tell complicated stories and has applied this to a fascinating series of podcasts recorded on walks called “Inside a Mountain”. However there is a lot more to Charlie than just working with sound, as Andrew Stuck discovers on the walk they take across Christchurch Meadows in Oxford. 25'50" 12.1MB

Notes from the podcast interview by Andrew Stuck: recorded in Christchurch Meadows, Oxford in February, 2022 and published in October 2022. <http://www.talkingwalking.net>
